Las Gitanas, Jaycee Women's Club, Show School Spirit And Generosity By Donation To Student Loan Fund

With a total of 45 dollars added to the student loan fund as a result of the elaborate benefit bridge held at the home of Professor E. M. Nealley, Monday night, November 30, Las Gitanas, who sponsored the affair, attribute the success of the benefit to the cooperation and contributions of various students and faculty members.

The Nealley home was open to the large gathering of some 90 guests, while the host and hostess, themselves, furnished part of the refreshments and other accessories. Miss Della Watson, instructor of foreign languages, donated all of the salad served. Mrs. Gails S. Smith, English instructor and club advisor, along with Las Gitanas members, contributed numerous articles.

Following an evening of bridge playing, prizes were awarded to the following persons: Katherine Chapman, who held high score among the ladies, Miss Hazel D. Dawson, instructor of home economics, and Mrs. E. M. Nealley, Mr. G.M. Woolley, chemistry instructor, and Jack Greene, were the gentlemen who received awards.

Refreshments, consisting of open faced sandwiches, wafers, fruit salad with cream cheese dressing mints, and coffee, brought the entertainment to a close.

French Club Has Christmas Party In Y. W. C. A. Hut

Before a blazing Yule-log fire at Hotel de Rambouillet held its Christmas meeting in commemoration of the French "Fete de Saint Nicolas", last Thursday evening at 5 o'clock in the Y-Hut.

The meeting was in the form of a pot-luck supper which consisted of a French salad, French rolls, escalloped potatoes, chicken pie, cake, coffee, fruits and nuts. It was served buffet style, and the group gathered round the fire to eat. During the meal only French was spoken.

After dinner the members sang "Le Marche des Rois" or "Cantique de Noel", Everard Stovall accompanying.

Miss Marie Moog then spoke on "Les Petes de France." This was followed by the singing of another Christmas song, "Il Est Ne, le Divin Enfant".

There were short speeches by each member of the club and songs in which all the club joined. Miss May Maag, who spoke on "Les Santons", illustrated her speech with a number of small figures.

Bob Brown, telling the story of Molly, Miss Aileen Adams, giving suggestions for Christmas gifts, and Miss Adahuth Ellis, speaking on "La Reine de Noel", all illustrated their speeches either with real objects or with drawings.

After each one, including Miss Della B. Watson, had said something in French, vice-president Charles Stehly, who was in charge of the program, turned the meeting over to the president, Miss Velma Bishop.

Those present at the Christmas meeting were the Misses Watson, Marie Moog, Ruth Collins, Velma Bishop, May Maag, Aileen Adams, Joy McPhee, Adahuth Ellis, Mary Maeger, Charles Stehly, Everard Stovall, Harold Harvey, Every White, Bob Brown and Harry Motley.

There has been a pay telephone installed at the north end of the hall in the small hall leading out to the east walk. Students have been using the telephones in various offices which has caused some conflict. This telephone was installed for student use and it is urged that students make use of it.

Virginia Bishop Reappointed Feature Editor

Virginia Bishop is assuming the editorship of the feature page for the remainder of this semester, because Gladys Lloyd has been obliged to resign owing to the pressure of her heavy course of studies. Miss Bishop was notified of her appointment by Paul Wright, editor-in-chief, late last week. Miss Bishop was feature editor of El Don last year until she changed colleges and attended Citrus J. C. She was feature editor there on the Citricacid.

Paul Wright has given Glover Hendrickson, managing editor, complete charge of this week's edition of El Don, hence the change in front page makeup. Wright is busy getting out the special Christmas edition of El Don, reported to be a magazine about the size of the Literary Digest, and was unable to assume the double duty of editing the weekly and the special number.

Discredit Rumors About S. A. Water

Recent rumors discrediting the purity of the Santa Ana water supply have been proved absolutely groundless by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, health officer of Orange County, when he announced, "Twice a week our department runs water samples from the Santa Ana system, and these samples have been consistently free from bacteria." The health department also takes samples of water from the swimming pool here, and it is tested for bacteria.

Although the plunge is used all the time, by a process of constant chemical purification and constant circulation the water never shows more than two or three bacteria. Some weeks there is not enough impurity for a test; then the water is chemically pure.

The water is chlorinated by machinery before it is run into the pool. It is the chlorine in the water that makes the eyes smart. Generally very little chlorine is necessary to keep the water pure; in fact, much less is needed in the junior college than in many other plunges.

Holiday Spirit To Feature Assembly On Tues., Dec. 15

Christmas themes will keep the holiday spirit at next week's assembly, Tuesday, December 15, at which Ernest Crozier Phillips, dramatic instructor, will give "The Fourth Wise Man", and the college chorus under Miss Myrtle A. Martin, director are to sing several songs of Noel.

"The Fourth Wise Man" is a mythical story about another magi who sought the new born saviour, but was unable to find him until a number of years after his birth. However, at the end of his quest he is compensated for his years of toil and devotion in an unusual way.

Bru ffTo Speak At Book Review Meet

That Mr. J. Russell Bruff will give a short talk on the bearing of his laboratory work on his philosophy of life, followed by questions and discussion, next week, was announced at the book review Saturday evening at the home of Edward M. Nealley in Tustin. All students are invited to attend this meeting.

College Traditions Will Be Maintained By Service Clubs

That the dead line for the shedding of all high school insignias is Wednesday noon, December 6, was announced at the junior college assembly yesterday. There have been many students this year wearing rings, pins, high school sweaters, and athletic letters; this is a direct violation of college tradition. Because of the lack of school spirit of the student body, one of the organizations has decided to put the Santa Ana junior college upon a regular college basis, by strictly enforcing the unwritten law stating that other school emblems or insignias shall not be worn on the college campus.

The following have promised their assistance in the campaign to uphold the tradition: Tomm Cone, Bachelors; Nell Grafton, supreme Spinster; Charles Greenleaf, Longfellows; Glover Hendrickson, Press club; Aldon Melzian, J. C. Engineers; Lorean Beard, O. K. club; James Thompson, Junior Lions.

Members from each of the clubs will be appointed watchmen and if those of the student body still insist upon wearing the foreign school emblems after a polite request from the watchmen to cease, drastic measures will be taken.

J. C. On Air For First Time Last Thursday, Dec. 4

After weeks of preparation by the fine-arts department of J.C. the first all-collegiate program was given last Thursday evening over K.R.E.G. from 7:30 until 8, with Martin Bowman, sophomore, who has been appointed director for the weekly half hour of music, talks and drama, in charge.

Bowman, radio singer of note, has for some time been consulting with officials of K.R.E.G. in an effort to secure a suitable hour. Short dramas from Ernest Crozier Phillips' speech arts class will be featured on these programs, but the literary, musical, and oratorical talent outside the department will not be overlooked in selecting material.

Thursday evening there were short talks by George Griffith, president of the Associated Students and Jack Green representing the Y.M.C.A., who spoke on the Y. Movement in college. The music for the evening included a cello solo by William Fox, flute solos by Miss Joanna Day and Miss Margaret Craig at the piano, and two piano numbers by Miss Craig.

The programs will be sponsored by the Executive board.

Jewish Synagogue Services Attended By Y. W. Women

After a French dinner at the Chateau in Los Angeles, about 25 women from the college Y. W. C. A. attended a regular Friday evening service in the Jewish synagogue.

The trip, instigated by Miss May Hasenjaeger, chairman of Christian education, was found to be as popular this year as it was last spring when a group of women from the same organization visited the synagogue during their study of comparative religions. Many Christian beliefs are entirely ignored by the Jews, it was explained by Rabbi Magnum in his discussion with the students after the meeting. The significance of the paintings in the synagogue was made plain by the Rabbi, and the history of the Jews discussed. Unfortunately, the stained glass windows could not be seen to best advantage, but the group was invited to return during the day when they could be studied. The pillars of black marble were imported from Belgium, it was pointed out by the guide.

Honorary Society's Hello Day Success

Placing $6.40 in their treasure as a result of the sale of "Hello Day" cards last Wednesday, December 2, members of Beta Gamma have decided to augment this amount by another sale of the cards next semester. In the meantime the honorary organization is planning various means of raising $25 to award at commencement to a student "outstanding in extra-curricular activities."

Elizabeth Riniker and Dulcie Green are in charge of the cards. The sale last week was to be extended for three days, because it was decided that one day was not sufficient. This is the second time that Beta Gamma has sponsored the event.

The organization has been commended for making "Hello Day" possible, for it promotes friendliness and makes new acquaintances on the campus. Beta Gamma has been active for

Newly Organized Drama Club Puts On Play Series

Playing to a large audience, the newly organized Drama Club presented very successfully, last Wednesday evening, in the Junior College Auditorium, its first series of one act plays.

Back of the Yards, the first play to be presented that night, was very well received. The plot was that of a young boy who "back of the yards", in Chicago, had gotten into a little trouble. The priest, and the officer were trying to help him, and, in the meantime, keep the news from his mother. As it ended, the boy, who had thought that the officer and the priest were trying to hinder him, failed to shoot the officer as he threatened to do. Jack sterman, as the boy, did very excellent work. Dean Wright, as the Priest, Frances Bowman, as the Mother, Harold Berry, as the officer, and Pauline Duckett, as the girl, all did equally well in the parts assigned them.

The Moving Finger, a difficult play to produce, was also very well received. The entire cast, which included Althea Lempke, Mark Hare, Doug McAdams, Howard Welsh, Robert Nichols, Bert Winslow, and Mitchell Hookins, did very good. The play was taken from the country of Talveria. Jaurilovitch, the villain, attempted to assassinate the King. The King falsely accused Naranjan of the crime. Latter it was revealed that Vuka, Naranjan's fiance, had poisoned the great Jaurilovitch. Hence every thing turned out successfully, and so the audience was satisfied that poetic justice had been dealt to Vuka Naranjan.

Christmas Edition Of El Don Will Be Issued Wednesday

Continuing a three year custom, members of El Don staff will again publish a Christmas edition of El Don in magazine form. The 28 pages promise to be unique and different in contents and color scheme as a result of the long planned and organized work of both editors and reporters.

Highlights will be found in accounts of travels, greetings, forecasts and revues. The exact contents of the magazine will not be disclosed until issued to the students next Wednesday, December 16, but it has been revealed that the edition will furnish an excellent revue of various campus organizations as well as a summary of coming events.

Educational Costs Of Jaycee Studied

That the cost per pupil is more in junior colleges than at the University of California or U. C. L. A. has been learned from a recent study of the problem by a committee of junior college administrators, of which D. K. Hammond, president of Santa Ana Jaycee, is a member.

According to the reports, the reason for this difference is that all the work is done in junior colleges by accredited teachers who receive regular salaries, while in the state universities graduate students are often employed as assistant instructors at a salary of $500 or less. The classes are smaller in the junior colleges than in the higher institutions and consequently a larger number of teachers are necessary.

Annual Junior College Christmas Dance Will Be Given At Santa Ana Country Club On Saturday, Dec. 19

Santa Ana Country club has been definitely decided upon by Marjorie Arundell, social commissioner, as the scene of the annual Christmas dance of the junior college on Saturday, December 19.

This semi-formal dance is one of the biggest of the entire college year, stated Miss Arundell today. Many prominent alumni who are now attending other colleges or working will

Trust Banking Is Subject Of Talk

R. D. Fuller, assistant trust officer and manager of the Orange County Trust District of the Bank of America, gave a lecture on "Trust Banking" at the business economics classes on Wednesday, December 2.

"Trust funds are as safe for people as anything can be" said Mr. Fuller, when he explained the difference between the old trust and the new bank trust and told how it was supervised by both the Federal and state authorities.

As defined by R. D. Fuller, a trust is a "conference organization". That is, an organization that will look after the funds given to them by a man who wishes the trust to invest the money and to give the proceeds either to himself in later life or to his relation after his death.

Both the classes enjoyed the lecture very much, it is reported.

Bachelor Assembly, Held Yesterday, Is Very Well Attended

Presentation of the one act play, "The Moving Finger", and a mock funeral service for the soul of Dean McKee Fisk were features of the Brotherhood of Bachelors assembly Tuesday.

The play featuring Althea Lempke, Mitchell Hookins, Howard Welsh, Mark Hare, and Douglas McAdams, was a presentation of the drama class and concerned the attempted assassination of the king of the mythical country Talveria. The "funeral" service for Dean Fisk was read by the "Reverend" L. G. Bates, and the floral tributes were contributed by "bachelor brothers" of the "deceased."

Shea Shell Shocial To Hold Steak Bake

Orange County park was selected as the location for a steak bake to be held next Monday night by the Shea Shell Shocial club. The men of the chemistry 1A class are to be the guests.

At a meeting of the club last Tuesday night at the home of Donna Crawford on Grand Ave., the steak-bake was planned, after which a "Dutch spread" was provided by Miss Crawford.

be there. Although the last classes preceding the Christmas recess are held on Wednesday, December 16, the date of the dance has been made December 19 in order that these alumni may return home from their various colleges and be able to attend the dance. A large turnout of the junior college students is also expected, said Miss Arundell. Last year this dance was held at the Country club and was one of the best attended of any during the progress of the social year.

The club has had charge of the many decorations for Christmas every year, and if these are appropriate for the junior college dance, they will not be changed or added to. Miss Arundell, as social commissioner, is in charge of all decorating and refreshments of the social functions of the J.C. social calendar. Punch and wafers will be served throughout the dancing and the intermissions. It is not known yet whether the club will take charge of the serving of the punch or whether several of the college students will be appointed by the social commissioner.

Attractive programs and favors will be given out. The dance will be semi-formal, as practically all of the college dances are, with the exception of the Tuesday noon dances and the courtesy rally dance after the game with Fullerton Junior College. Those are strictly sport. The Christmas dance is always semi-formal.

The orchestra has not as yet been definitely decided upon. Miss Arundell said that it would probably be Carlton "Deke" Smith's popular, pep-

Orphan Kids And Press Club Will Hold Joint Meet

Tonight at 7:00 in the print shop the members of the O. K. club will meet with the Press club in order to discuss plans for a joint party to be held about the middle of January.

President Glover Hendrickson of the Press club, and President Lorean Beard of the Orphan Kids had previously talked over the merits of promoting a big party combining the two active clubs. Hendrickson announced today that some of the preliminary arrangements have already been completed and tonight at the meeting the final ones will be discussed and planned.

The members will also vote on the type of party to be held. A roller-skating party, an ice-skating party, a trip to the snow, and a sport dance have been already suggested to Hendrickson and Miss Beard. Others will be named and talked over before the final vote is taken.

These clubs had a treasure hunt and a hay ride together two years ago, but since then they have not affiliated in any way.

The matter of Press club pins will also be discussed, and Virginia Bishop, chairman of the committee to look up data concerning them, will give her report. The club has not had pins for several years.

Series Of Tea Will Be Given By A. W. S.

Soon after the Christmas holidays a series of A. W. S. teas will be given in the home of Mrs. Robert Northcross.

Up until this time A. W. S. teas have been given for larger groups. It has been decided that teas held in the future will be for the entertainment of smaller groups. The largest tea of the year was given before the Thanksgiving holidays.

PRESS ASSOCIATION

EL DON'S PLATFORM

It is the aim of El Don as the official newspaper of the Santa Ana Junior College Associated Students to—
1—Take an active interest in the welfare of the association and aid in the progress and promotion of the organization's activities.
2—Assist in making the Santa Ana junior college the best educational institution of its kind in California.
3—Promote the most friendly and cooperative relationship possible between students of the school and faculty members.
4—Assist student officials in discharging their duties by presenting the attitude of students on problems of the association.
5—Offer unbiased, truthful and enterprising accounts of events on the campus thereby aiding in the promotion of such activities.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Here's Some More!

Following close on the heels of last week's eye-scorching editorial about school spirit, comes this blazing challenge to the Dons of Santa Ana junior college—those babes-in-the-woods, diamonds-in-the-rough students who are the most unique in the state, and have not yet gone to the trouble to find out.

Yes, the most unique in the state—and here's the reason why:

Did you know that Santa Ana junior college has just three—count 'em, three—definite yes and no rules?

Did you know that there is no other college or junior college in the state existing and thriving on such an absence of do and don't regulations?

That outside of parking across the street, athletic eligibility, and attendance requirements the entire college and extra-curricular activities are handled by the common sense and level-headedness of those enrolled, although they haven't yet discovered that there is such a possibility of themselves having brains.

Now that the soft-soap is plastered and splattered over everything, and everybody's patted on the back, let's get down to business—this jewelry business, high school pins, insignia, and letters.

The fact that a man will spend his time and good skin to fight for our dear old alma mater on the gridiron, while in his own eyes he may be justified in wearing any numeral he pleases does not quite seem to be consistent. If he still thinks so much of his former school, why does he waste his time here?

Listen, freshmen, you've been around here long enough for us all to know just what club you belonged to, what letters you have, and that you have a boy or girl friend generous enough to let you wear his trade-mark, so why not take them off and be regular Dons? Come on, drop the ego and the childish desire to brand yourselves as one-time social lions. It's all past now, those good old high school days, and life is ahead of you. Show your true colors—live up to tradition—see how regular YOU can be. TAKE THEM OFF!

Cursing—Out

This business of cursing, like most other industries, isn't what it used to be. In the Middle Ages a curse worried people. They were always sure it would work. Cursing used to be quite a racket. Many a well-to-do citizen of medieval times paid good money to some mug who threatened to put a curse on him if he didn't come across.

Sometimes, of course, curse doesn't work. There's that immortal curse in the "Ingoldsby Legends", where the cardinal cursed the thief who had stolen his ring. He cursed him in eating and sleeping and drinking and in walking and talking and thinking. But—

"What gave rise

"To no little surprise,

"Nobody seemed one penny worse.

And so, dear Freshmen, though your curses might not work, be careful who you place them on until after final exams anyway. After you have flunked out, your curses won't amount to so much, and the teachers won't worry so much about whether your curses are going to work and will be easier on the upperclassmen.

OVER THE EDITOR'S DESK

GLOVER HENDRICKSON

AT LAST, IF YOU WILL pardon this astute soul, some of the clubs on the campus are beginning to justify their existence. I mean in the matter of college traditions. It is high time that someone took a hand in the matter of cleaning up the campus of the littering of high school insignia and I am glad to see these clubs take over the job. At a large college, the offense would not be tolerated long enough to allow time out for registration. Santa Ana junior college is growing and NOW IS THE TIME TO SET THE PRECEDENT!

HIGH SCHOOL INSIGNIA is all right if you are going to high school, but those days are over. You are embarking on a bigger adventure and it is time to leave rompers, rattles, yo yos, and high school insignia at home on the mantle. Personally, I don't think that any of the pansies wearing high school emblems will refuse to comply with the request of the committee, BUT I WOULD LIKE TO SEE SOME DO IT, it would, in a small measure, compensate for the lack of fight shown at the rally.

DO YOU HAVE to advertise the fact that you really went to high school? Thea means nothing. We've all gone there and are past that stage now. Rompers have been discarded for the same reason. WHAT YOU ARE GOING TO DO HERE is all that counts. If you are actively engaged in supporting your jaycee then you don't have to indulge in past record secondary school advertising. Your deeds here will speak for themselves.

IF YOU DIDN'T READ the editorial in El Don last week, the one labeled, "What is the matter, anyway?" you missed one good editorial. And my only regret is that I didn't write it.

SOME SAY THAT the lack of school spirit is occasioned by the fact that the Dons did not put out a championship football team this year. "Horsefeathers", says I, "The team never had a chance, with the support they received from the student body to prove their championship calibre."

AND THOSE SAME PANSIES cannot say that the courses offered here are to stiff to allow for participation in school activities because the majority of the leaders on the campus, the most active in school and scholastic work, rate better than average in their studies.

OF COURSE YOU CAN class yourself as being mentally inferior to them, as you no doubt will, but I maintain that it is caused only by pure laziness. That strips the thing from all of its nice superficialities, and I expect a call down for it, but it is said, and I propose to stand by it.

NOW, THAT THAT is that. What are you going to do about it? Basketball season is coming right along and Santa Ana has unusually bright prospects for a championship team. We're in a new league, the Orange Empire Conference, and the time is ripe for each individual to resolve to support the boys who are working on that team. Let the town know about our games, tell your friends outside of school, especially all the old grads, and thereby try to erase the "Black Eye" caused by the poor students and spirit shown this past season.

HERE'S A TIP TO the service clubs who are actively engaged in doing nothing. Why not take a tip from "Old Grad Comments", appearing elsewhere on this page, and see that, at games, the rooting section is concentrated, the yell leaders are on time (with their megaphones), and the other thousand and one details that go toward making a success of a game. That would probably save a lot of hard feelings and talk later and would, unquestionably, create more enthusiasm and pep at the games.

Gather your kisses while you may, Time brings only sorrow, For girls who are so free today, Are chaperones tomorrow. (Take it from Sid Magnusson, Lauren Griggs, "Pop" Secrest, and the 1931 football players)

STUDENT COMMENT

This country may need a good five cent cigar as well as a good five cent nickel, but what this college needs is as renovated rooting section. The noise issuing from the grandstands during the late football season was far from gratifying to the ears of the yell leaders, and tended to create an unfavorable impression of the college in the minds of outsiders who witnessed games here.

Now it is silly to even remotely suppose that Santa Ana students have lost their voices, or that they are lacking in school spirit. The reason they didn't yell louder and didn't support school activities more fully is because they didn't have enough practice either in yelling or climbing poles.

That's a thing that doesn't exist any more however, Dons and Donas became so ashamed of themselves when they were verbally chastised in the columns of this paper last week, that the old regime of half-hearted supporters of school activities has passed on, and all those who were once "Pansies" and skirt-clingers are now red-blooded men who are going to yell their heads off during the forthcoming basketball season. The "power of the press" has once more asserted itself, and a real victory was won for the writer of that editorial. All one has to do to sway the student body is to write an article on some pet grievance and have it printed in El Don and one's name will go down in history.

Of course I have no business to be writing this, for I'm only a mere freshman who didn't even attend the fire, but I think that criticism of a more constructive nature would be more in order, especially from an upperclassman. Upperclassmen can't be wrong, much.

HEAVEN'S SAKES

Some one has defined news as being facts that make a woman say, "For Heaven's Sake." Following is a collection of this type of news.

Somebody or other has invented a motor horn which sounds like a harp, presumably so that the pedestrians will hardly notice their transition to a better life.

Mr. Coolidge we gather would rather be an ex-president than a vexed president.

The depression a lot of us are in is a rut.

A critic declares that people are too poor now to read novels. The real trouble is that novels are too poor for people to read.

A lot of people who bought securities are wonderful whether they understand the English language.

It seems that only those writers with a past have a future.

A college professor states that civilization is under construction. And at the present time we seem to be passing over one of its worst detours.

Proof readers are for peace between China and Japan.

It seems that a number of people who went into business on the ground floor are now in the sub cellar.

What the country seems to need is rigid economy coupled with a tendency to free spending.

According to treasury statements, there is too much red, in the red, white, and blue.

Acute observers are reporting silver threads among the gold standards.

An Eastern university has established an advisory bureau for persons in love. But by the time a lover realizes that he needs advice, he is no longer in love.

Anyway, a lot of us will soon be on our feet again—our shoes have about worn out.

Well, let's be cheerful. A casual study of explosives show that the boom always follows the bust.

Hint from a farm journal: "It was after she used his razor for a can-opener that he discovered what an elegant shoe-brush her powder puff made."

OLD GRAD COMMENTS

Orange, California
November 27, 1931

Editor, El Don,

Dear Sir:

Criticism is usually spiteful and often unjust. I wish to ask only a few questions of the students and hope that none is offended. This little open letter is the result of several firsthand observations last week and various reports from time to time.

What happened to the rally Wednesday night? After reading El Don, I supposed that half of Santa Ana and virtually the entire college was going to attend en masse. But the auto parade was a failure with only a dozen or so undecorated cars tooting through town. At the bonfire there seem to be no organization or pep. Where were the yell-leaders' megaphones? Why wasn't some kind of platform erected so that the yell leaders and speakers could be seen and heard? Where was the rope for the tug-o-war? Why didn't more men get in the pole rush? Why weren't there any advance preparations, captains elected, interclass rivalry aroused? Perhaps this enough for the rally.

Referring to the game Thanksgiving Day, things weren't so good. Why wasn't someone at the stairway to point out the rooting section so that students weren't scattered everywhere? Why had the game progressed far into the first quarter before a Don yell-leader showed up? And where was yell-leader No. 2 before he strolled in during the same first quarter? And why didn't the yell-leaders have their megaphones with them? And why didn't most of the students know the yells? Why were the yells changed so drastically from last year that only a few peppy students knew what to say next?

The dance after the game was good and showed a lot of work and preparation. And as a whole, the Dons are active and hardworking on campus activities, but it hurt my pride to see my Alma Mater look so foolish in public. The townspeople who took the trouble to attend the rally were disgusted. A larger number had the same thoughts when the rooting section folded up at the game.

Perhaps this isn't the first year such things have happened. My junior college days were not perfect. But let us hope for better spirit in the future and we'll down Fullerton, an over-spirited group, and the whole world. Sincerely,
AN OLD GRAD

DOGS ARE HUMAN

Who says dogs aren't human? The one that decided to visit French class one day at least seemed to be.

Some time after rollcall Rover, indifferent to be the fact that he was tardy, walked into the room and quietly ambled over to the corner. After having found a sunny spot, he remained interestedly taking in the lesson. For about an hour he sat, apparently as attentive as the most interested student.

As he was not disturbing the tranquility of the class much he was allowed to stay to audit it.

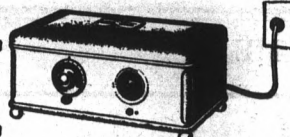

Soon, however, a boy arose to tell a story in French. It was halted and uninteresting, and there were many errors. These apparently injured Rover's delicate ears, for he wiggled them fiercely. But, since this remonstrance brought nothing but a continuation of the same disagreeable sound, he with a bored look turned his back and went to sleep.

Winking like a gentleman until the boy had finished, he cautiously opened one eye, then two, arose, and stretched himself. His ears weren't wiggling now; in fact he appeared to be quite relieved.

Cocking his head on one side, he looked at the class from his grandstand seat and yawned.

Just then the bell rang. Evidently realizing that the period was over, Rover started off at a dogtrot and ted the class out of the room.

Tuning In

ON NEWS OF THE PAST
Mary Mater, Dialer

Abbott Mason, president of the Associated Students, will leave tomorrow night for Sacramento and the semi-annual convention of junior college student presidents of California.

The "Tavern Post" will appear on the campus Friday, December 12, it was learned today from officials of the Tavern Tattlers, college literary club.

Enjoying a day of snow sports, dancing, cards and other entertainment a group of Bachelors and their lady friends journeyed to Big Bear lake Sunday for an outing.

Leaving the college in body Thursday afternoon, the Shea Shell Social club members and their friends went to Irvine park for their annual steak bake. The group consisted of about 45 students.

Affiliation with the National Scholastic Press association was completed this week by El Don. Through its membership in the organization the publication will be eligible for entry in the association's annual contest.

One of the most stupendous undertakings yet attempted by any junior college service club will be that of a food drive for Santa Ana's needy, conducted by La Compania de los Gauchos.

Present registration figures tend to show that Santa Ana junior college will be the best represented college at this year's Asilomar conference which will be held from December 26 to January 3 of next year.

She: "You have? How did that happen?"

He (pointing to his eyes): "I have two pupils."

She: "O, I have a flower garden too."

He: "Yes?"

She (pointing to her lips): "I have tulips."

He: "Why does an empty purse always look the same?"

She: "I give up."

He: "Because there's no change in it."

DONS TO PLAY IN SEASON'S FIRST GAME

Select All-Conference Team

HOLD INITIAL PRACTICE ON CINDER PATH

Gilbert, Cone, Schoenberg, Durbin And Blewitt Start Practice

Showing a considerable amount of pre-season interest many men of the junior college have started to limber up in preparation for this year's coming track season. Some of the men who have been out for football and do not intend to continue their athletic ability along the lines of basketball are working once or twice a week in preparation for the events that they intend to enter when the cinder season gets into full swing.

This year's track team will be captained by Doyle Gilbert, sensational broad jumper, who went through the complete season without suffering defeat, and never once failing to enter twenty-two feet in his favorite event. He is not only one of the best broad jumpers in the league, but quite an artist with the bamboo pole when it comes to pole vaulting. He has been quite consistent around 22 feet in the past, and with a little concentration on this side-issue of his he should be able to give any contestant in the Orange Empire conference a "battle of the heights".

He desires all men that are not going out for basketball to try and make arrangements to work out on the track at least once or twice a week.

Practice Schedule
Coach Cook has recommended the following schedule for those who would like to start working out this early in the season. Distance runners are to concentrate mostly on easy and regular jogging and striding, covering from one-half to three-quarters of a mile at a time. They should be sure that they have warmed up sufficiently, to guard against any unnecessary soreness of muscles. Sprinters should follow much the same schedule with a few practice starts after having warmed up.

Field men should do little or no work on their events, and should pound into shape by building up leg muscles by doing a considerable amount of running on the track.

In case any of the men have sore limbs after initial workouts they should wear tennis shoes and run only on the turf.

Among those who have started to pound into shape are Tom Cone, Bob Durbin, and Carl Schoenberg distance men, and George Blewitt, and Captain Doyle Gilbert in the sprints. Paul Jacques, last year's state high jump champion, will enter college at the half, immediately following his graduation from Santa Ana high school. He plans to start work in the next week or two.

Release Schedule Of Casaba Games

The new basketball schedule for the Orange Empire conference, eastern division of the Southern California junior college association, is printed below. Santa Ana is now in this league.

Jan. 9—San Bernardino at Pomona, Chaffey at Santa Ana, Citrus at Fullerton, Riverside bye.
Jan. 16—Fullerton at Chaffey, Riverside at Citrus, Santa Ana at San Bernardino, Pomona bye.
Jan. 23—Riverside at Pomona, Chaffey at Citrus, San Bernardino at Fullerton, Santa Ana bye.
Jan. 30—Citrus at San Bernardino, Fullerton at Riverside, Pomona at Santa Ana, Chaffey bye.
Feb. 6—Pomona at Chaffey, Riverside at San Bernardino, Citrus at Santa Ana, Fullerton bye.
Feb. 13—Santa Ana at Riverside, San Bernardino at Chaffey, Fullerton at Pomona, Citrus bye.
Feb. 20—Chaffey at Riverside, Santa Ana at Fullerton, Pomona at Citrus, San Bernardino bye.

Delvings of the Dons

BY BOB DURBIN

ODE TO WILSON

Walter Wilson, football manager has received two complements that are worthy of mention. One came from the Dean of the collegewhen he stated that "He was the most dependable and efficient football manager that has come in contact with in the last five years." The other came from Wilton Hilliard, commissioner of mens athletics. He said "That manager Wilson had decreased the burden of his job by his efficient work."

The El Don sports staff might add that he has been a great help in supplying names and correct numbers of football players before games. This season many of the Don tracksters will change their events. Due to the fact that last year some of them ran events that they could not do their best in, but did it to fill in where we had no representatives, they will try new events this year. George Blewitt will concentrate on the low hurdles rather than the sprints and quarter, the events that he entered last year. Ervin Watkins will try throwing the javelin, as will as running the half mile.

Jim Danari will try the javelin and any other event that meet a good man to fill. Ton Cone will return to the cinder path after a year lay-off, and will probable win most of his points in the two mile. There is a possibility that Calrence Pargue, formed Southern Cal. light weight pole vault champ, will enroll in the Don institution the second semester. He should probable be able to clear 12 feet after a little practice, considering the fact that he cleared 11 feet 6 when he was a fleeweight pole vault artist when he attended Orange high.

Basketball Rules

In an effort to clear some of the hazy football rules out of the public head below are a few basketball rules. The game shall consist of two halves of 20 minutes with an intermission of 10 minutes between the halves. Captains shall be notified three minutes before the termination of the intermission between halves. If either team is not on the floor ready for play within one minute after the referee call play, either at the beginning of the second half or after time has been taken out for any reason, the ball shall be put in play in the same manner as if both teams were on the floor ready to play.

The centers must not tap the ball before it reaches its highest point, and must not leave the circle until the ball has been tapped. A goal made from the field shall count two points; a goal from a free throw shall count one point.

El Don All Conference Football Team Is Selected By Sports Staff; Tackle Position Is Gained By Harry Clayton

Thoroughly convinced that the process of selecting all-conference football teams, is just "so much hooey", the El Don sports staff has attempted to be impartial in placing the players on the various teams.

It is impossible to be exact in the selection of the all-conference team, due to the fact that one cannot see all the candidates in action during every game of the season.

Following are the selection for possible teams:

FIRST TEAM
ENDS—STOREY OF LOS ANGELES AND SCHLIEBAUM OF COMPTON.
TACKLES—CLAYTON OF SANTA ANA AND HIBBS OF COMPTON.
GUARDS—PROSSER OF COMPTON AND ABRAHAMS OF LONG BEACH.
CENTER—BRUCE OF SANTA ANA.
QUARTERBACK—CANFIELD OF COMPTON.
HALFBACKS—PICKENS OF FULLERTON AND HOWARD OF COMPTON.
FULLBACK—RHEIN OF COMPTON.
SECOND TEAM
Ends—Zarubica of Glendale and Mooney of Long Beach.
Tackles—Santa Cruz of Santa Ana and P. Schupp of Long Beach.
Guards—Peters of Pasadena and Del Giorgio of Fullerton.
Center—Splane of Los Angeles.
Quarter—Higashi of Santa Ana.
Halfbacks—Seifert of Compton and Rogers of Fullerton.
Fullback—Seacord of Santa Ana.
THIRD TEAM
Ends—Miller of Pasadena and Gibboney of Compton.
Tackles—Brown of Fullerton and Muller of Glendale.
Guards—Betsinger of Compton and Bartholomew of Santa Ana.
Center—Spaulding of Compton.
Quarterback—Little of Pasadena.
Halfbacks—Watkins of Santa Ana and De Santis of Glendale.
Fullback—Crane of Long Beach.

Jaycee Women Win Basketball Games

Traveling to Long Beach last Saturday for their annual fall play day, the Santa Ana junior college women's casaba teams won two out of their three contests.

The first team, composed of the college sophomore women, defeated the Fullerton junior college second team 26-22 in a hard-fought contest.

The second team, composed of women from the freshman class, defeated the Long Beach second team 29-6. The game was a walk-away for the Santa Ana team, with the Santa Ana forwards scoring at will. Nice team work was shown by the Santa Ana women.

The summary:
S. A. Firsts (26) (22) Fullerton 2nds

The third team, made up of both freshmen and sophomores, drew Compton's first team which made the teams quite unequal. However, the third string put up a good battle and Compton only won 17-10 after a close contest. The team had not played together before, but they made a good showing.

Exchange News In The Sports Field

Chaffey junior college expect to have one of the best casaba teams in the history of their school if the initial turnout holds up to expectations. Sixteen men reported to Coach Mitchell the first night of practice and participated in sitting-up exercises so as to strengthen their leg muscles. They also received a talk in the rudiments of basketball.

They will have a daily two hour practice from 5 to 7 o'clock in the evening.

Intersectional Game

The Chaffey Panthers, will play an intersectional game with the Kamehameha grid team of Hawaii. This is to be a return game for the one that the Panthers played on the island last year. The game is to be played the 26 of December and should prove quite an attraction for the grid fans in this section of the country.

Compton Wins Title

Compton won the Southern California grid title, but only after the hardest game the Tartars have played in the last two years. They won by a margin of one point, 7 to 6 after being outplayed for the most part of the game.

Coach Hershel Smith, Compton track coach, is holding a novice track meet December 11. This meet will be only for non-lettermen and Coach Smith expects to have a large representation from both the frosh and sophomore class.

Los Angeles junior college's are going through one of the toughest schedules possible. They are planning to hold an intra-mural wrestling tournament. The bouts will be limited to six minutes. If the competitors are still on their feet at the end of two minutes, they will be subject to penalty and will be forced to the canvas.

College Is Represented In Golf For First Time

For the first time in the history of the college, Santa Ana was represented in golf at the fall play day held in Long Beach last Saturday.

Ernestine Wakeham, freshman, represented the local college in this sport. She placed third in a field of eight contestants. This is a good record, and it is hoped that Santa Ana may be represented as well in the future.

Sid's Sport Column

BY SID MAGNUSSON

A cursory survey of Coach Foote's basketball material seems to indicate that we have a wealth of potent material. Besides the Don cagers that have returned from last year we also have the cream of the Orange county prep stars of last year. All this would seem to indicate that we have a good chance of turning out a championship team, and so we have, just as much as any other college in the league.

If the team hasn't struck its stride in the first game it is no reason the why the student body should lose confidence in it, as has been the case in preceding years. At the first indication of defeat it has been the favorite custom of the student body to go back on the team. Can you expect the teams to turn in victories when no confidence is placed in them? It is too much to ask of any team, especially when the student body doesn't hold up their end of the deal.

TEAM NEEDS SUPPORT

When the team is tasting the dregs of defeat is the time when it is most in need of support from the students. It is easy to cheer when the team is winning, but it is more fun to be able to cheer when the team has pulled up from behind and won.

Something like the story of the Austin, that went into the Second street tunnel in Los Angeles and came out in a gopher hole in Culver City. You seldom get more from cheering and support than you put into it, and it doesn't pay to wait for the exceptions. Besides, it will be your big chance to visit and see some of the new schools in the new league.

Let's all turn out for the games. The first league game isn't until the seventh of January, but there will be several practice games between now all hot and bothered before the big and then so turn out and get the team pow-wow begins. Give them lots of support and see what happens.

Compton Tartars Vanquish Tigers In Title Affair

Although they were outplayed throughout the game, Compton's terrible Tartars successfully defended their Southern California junior college football crown against Riverside junior college at Ramsaur Field last Saturday.

Compton looked like a champion at only one time during the game. This was in the last part of the second quarter when Rhein and Howard worked the ball down to Riverside's fifteen yard stripe, where the drive was ended by the timer's gun.

Last Minute Scores

In the last two minutes of play Bill Howard sent a long pass to half-back Mel Seifert who was hiding out on the side line. Seifert carried the ball over and Howard converted.

Led by the sensational playing of "Swede" Lovine and Walt Schell, the Tigers kept the ball in Compton territory practically all the game.

The game was featured by the offensive play of "Swede" Lovine of the Tigers and the defensive play of Bill Howard.

Coach Pine then sent in a flock of substitutes in order that they might make letters.

OPPONENT IN CONTEST HAS FINE RECORD

Foote's Cagers Will Play Whittier College Five In S. A. Gym Fri.

Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana junior college cagers will engage in their first practice encounter of the series of pre-league games which will be played before the opening conference game with Chaffey junior college January 9, with the Anaheim Clotheiers quintet this evening in Andrews gymnasium at 7:30.

In preparation for this opening "warm-up" game with the Clotheiers, the Don mentor held organized team practice on Monday and Tuesday. The latter part of last week was entirely spent in brushing up on fundamentals such as passing and dribbling and floor work.

A tentative line-up for the opening game includes such flashes as Russell Sullivan and 'Hen' Thiery at forward.

Bill Foote Fred Brooks a center, Elwood Lindley and Hideo Higashi at guard. Coach Foote, however will probably insert most of the men into the tussle in order to give every one a chance to show their respective abilities.

This Don-Clotheier skirmish should serve as an excellent yardstick with which to measure the strength of the squad as well as the strength of the individual members. Up till now Foote has been instructing his men in formations and fundamentals and as yet has not had time to eliminate any of the members who do not show required ability. The "weed-out" will undoubtedly depend a great deal on the performance of the cagers in this evening's game.

Cinch positions on the Don basketball teams are a thing of the past with 32 men vying for a place on the quintet. This is over twice the turnout for basketball of any of the previous years.

On Friday evening of this week, the Don cagers will be pitted against two Whittier college teams in Andrews gymnasium. By that time the team will be well organized and the fracas should prove to be a real entertainer.

Dwayne Robinson who was out for the team last year but rather inaccurate in his shooting, seems to have learned a great deal since his freshman days and may press Sullivan and Thiery at forward. Robinson, tall and rangy, is a dead-eye under the basket. Leo Gaspar, Horace Ritner, and Cecil Slaback are among others who look promising. Several of the other forward candidates may be shifted to guard this week.

Bowman's Tustin Home Is Scene Of Lions Gathering

With R. H. Drake as main speaker, a one hundred per cent turnout of Junior Lions vouched for the success of the dinner and discussion held at Martin Bowman's home in Tustin last Wednesday evening.

As ground school instructor at Eddie Martin's airport, Mr. Drake was able to give a most interesting resume of recent activities in practical aviation. He stated that within ten years everybody would be flying.

Knut Rockne's death had no influence on passenger flights as statistics show that more people bought flying tickets the day after the famous football coach met with accidental death than on the day of the tragedy or the day before, according to Drake.

"As a business, flying is increasing very profitably from day to day. Personally, I should rather be in an airplane than riding in an automobile in the down town district of a city," said Mr. Drake.

Following the talk, the Lions participated in lively discussion with Mr. Drake authoritatively answering questions.

Jac Crawford: "I'm not thin-skinned. I'm the first to laugh at my own foolishness."

Martin Bowman: "What a merry life you must lead."

—Its a sad story of the poor fellow who didn't know what it was all about.

Club Presidents To Meet Tomorrow

BULLETIN

George Griffith, president of the Associated Students, today cancelled the meeting of club presidents slated for tomorrow. The next regular meeting of the group will be held January 14, he said.

With inter-club cooperation the main issue, presidents of all campus clubs will meet with the Executive Board tomorrow evening for their regular monthly discussion, George Griffith, president of the Associated Students, announced today.

The meeting will be the last and fourth of the year, the next one coming two weeks after college work opens in January. Among the problems which will confront the group tomorrow are in regard to assemblies, parking, insignia, and college spirit.

Popular Co-ed Is Injured In Crash

Jean Baldwin, popular junior college freshman, was badly cut and bruised after being in an automobile crash last Friday morning while on her way to school. Miss Baldwin is confined at her home in Huntington Beach and will be unable to attend school for several days.

Tatlers Will Write To Professor Glenn

On completion of a very enjoyable day at the Huntington Library as guests of Alpha Rho Tau, the Tavern Tatlers met at the Spurgeon street home of Mrs. Robert Northcross to discuss the beautiful art collections and to write Thomas Hall Glenn a Christmas letter.

Mr. Glenn, head of the high school and junior college English departments and on leave of absence for this year, founded the Tavern Tatlers in 1929 and advised the club in its literary endeavor and in its publication of the Tavern Post.

Residing with a French family in Sainte Radegonde, a small village near Tours, Mr. Glenn writes that he is taking in the details of French life. Since he likes the country, he finds his study of French a most enjoyable one and says that his daily themes remind him of the English students because of all the red marks on his papers.

The club has been planning to write Mr. Glenn for some time and they were especially anxious to send him holiday greetings. Miss Jane Cunningham brought a long roll of Japanese stationery, and an epistle measuring over ten feet was the collaborative efforts of the Tatlers.

An important part of the business meeting was the election of two new members into the club, Miss Dorothy Parsons and Mr. Kenne th Patrick, both of whom are well known for their literary achievements.

L. A. Jaycee Solves Auto Parking Puzzle

Los Angeles junior college is solving its parking problems by engaging the use of vacant lots near the campus. Many students have had to park as far as four blocks from the buildings.

Parking at Santa Ana has seemed quite a problem this year. However, there is still space around the football fields for college students' automobiles.

Timmons: "And you turned down the job Senator Green offered you as his private secretary?"

Simmons: "Yes, you see I would have had to sign all his letters, Green per Simmons."

College Student Cooperation Lauded By Chicago Officials

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 9.—(CN)—sifying his income tax reports. Collegiate cooperation with Chicago officials in combating the underworld is being discussed on the Northwestern University campus this week following the initiation of a large number of students and faculty members into the secrets of the "Secret Six".

Al Capone and his gangster lieutenants were vividly described to a student-faculty luncheon gathering at the Orrington hotel by Col. Isham Randolph, chairman of the "hex" committee.

Professors as well as students became wide-eyed as the anti-crime leader described the manner in which investigators traced cashiers' checks and other documents through Chicago's financial institutions in procuring the evidence that has brought the notorious vice king to grief in the Federal courts on charges of falsifying his income tax reports.

The Secret Six, already famous in the annals of journalism and in the cinema world, was formed only a year ago by industrial leaders of the city in such a way that no one of them knew who the other five were.

Current rates charged for "bumping a guy off" range from $50 to $300 in Chicago, but if President Walter Dill Scott of the university were the victim it would cost more, because he is a "big shot", the colonel said.

In the famous "pineapple primaries" of 1928, Chicago University students, 200 in number, voluntarily served without pay as watchers at polling places throughout the windy city. Many of them, it was said, had enlightening as well as thrilling experiences.

Geologists To Take Trip Thru Arizona Mining Districts

Covering in a field trip the Arizona mining districts and other sections of the country of geological interest, about 12 students from the junior college geology classes will accompany Horace Scott on a seven day outing during Christmas vacation, beginning December 17.

With plans specifying a 6 o'clock start Thursday morning, the group will visit Lake Cahila, the Colorado river terraces, Yuma, Arizona and the Castle Dome district, where camp will be pitched.

Friday morning will be spent in collecting specimens of silver, molybdenum and fluorine from the Castle Dome district. About noon they will leave for Phoenix and spend the night there.

The Arizona state mining exhibit will be the main interest Saturday morning, then travelling to Miami, the students will visit the Keystone copper mines where silicate gems can be studied. They will collect Tungsten minerals and stay in Miami until Monday morning.

A visit and exploration of the cliff dwellings and a trip to the Coolidge and Roosevelt Dams will occupy the whole of Monday.

Tuesday they will follow the old Apache trail with frequent stops during the next two days at points of interest. The party is expected to arrive in Santa Ana Christmas eve.

Morals To Feature Y-Discussion Group

Morals will be the topic of discussion at the Y.M.C.A. discussion meeting to be held Thursday morning in room 5, at 11:20.

Some of the problems for discussion are: Are morals God made or Man made, Are they relative or absolute, And after all, who is the judge of what is right and what is wrong?

Everyone is interested in this vital problem of morals, Jack Green stated, so come and help in the discussion.

COLLEGE DANCE

A great many prominent Santa Ana Junior College Alumni some who are at other colleges, and some who are working this year, have stated their intentions of coming to the Christmas hop. This long anticipated dance is the only one of the year that is rather a homecoming dance for the graduates.

A Capella Chorus To Hold Concert

Under the direction of Miss Myrtle Martin, head of the music department "a Capella chorus" will hold its first concert in the Christmas assembly. Composed of 40 of the best voices in the college the chorus is able to present a splendid program.

This is the first year in which an a Capella chorus has been organized in the school but wonderful progress has been made, Martin said. There are several trained voices in the group at the present time, and these tend to help the presentation greatly. Virtually all of the voices have had previous training to some extent.

Students Invited To Attend Session

Junior college faculty will be glad to take a few students to the eighth session of the institute of international relations to be held at the Riverside Mission Inn, December 13 to 18.

President D. K. Hammond and L. L. Beeman plan to attend a number of the special evening lectures, parts of the general conference, and the round table discussion.

Educators and leaders of international thinking from New York, New Zealand, China and France as well as the Pacific coast will be the main speakers.

The program of the session is posted on the bulletin board in the high school administrative office.

Pirate Fest Will Be Theme Of Big Party

Jolly cheers and strains of laughter will echo from the gym of the Santa Ana junior college tonight when a band of bold pirates of the Women's Athletic Association will swoop down upon the building and engage in a merry pirate party.

Everything will be carried out in a true pirate custom from costumes and decorations to the food and the entertainment. Captain Kidd will be in charge of the ship with his crew serving the good eats to the visiting pirates. Sweet strains of pirate music will carry the pirates from port to port. Dancing and pirate skits will be given in between courses. It is urged that everyone be present at this annual baskettball, tennis, and swimming spread and sail around the world with Captain Kidd. Captain Kidd will announce at the party tonight that he wants everyone of his crew and all of his visiting pirates to report for hockey after the Christmas holidays.

Caltech Workers Photograph Ever Elusive Electron

PASADENA, Dec. 9, (CU)—American scholarship and ingenious research methods again startled the intellectual world this week with the announcement that two California Institute of Technology research workers have developed a "crystal spectrometer" to aid in photographing the elusive dynamic electron.

The announcement came from Italy, where Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the Institute's executive council, was attending an international conference of famous scientists. The spectrometer is credited to Jesse W. M. DuMond and Harry Kirkpatrick of the Institute.

Photographs showing the activities of two electrons in beryllium, a hard, silver-white metallic element, were shown to the conference, and methods of computing the velocity of the electrons were explained.

Dr. Millikan also announced that he had segregated cosmic rays into four elements, helium oxygen, silicon and iron. His findings were verified by Professor Arthur Compton of the University of Chicago and by Madame Curie, co-discoverer of radium.
